Communication and Language	Follow adult cues to listen. Know behaviours for successful listening. Children participate in repetitive or predictable texts. Repeat new vocabulary after it is introduced. Follow cues for turn taking in conversation.	Join in and learn rhymes and poems. Understand the agreed rules for conversational turn taking in small and larger groups. With support children ask questions to find out more about what has been said to them. Respond to how and why questions.	To participate in group story telling (Helicopter Stories) To add connectives to the end of simple sentences to extend and give more detail. For example and, so and because. To retell familiar stories using pictures and actions as prompts	To answer open ended or speculative questions. - To use talk to help work out problems. To be able to explain how something works and why they might happen. Retell a familiar story in detail using a story map and/or their own words.	To recall and use key vocabulary for the half term. To listen to and discuss non-fiction texts. To understand the social phrases used in our school – good morning, you're welcome, how are you? To ask questions to clarify understanding.	To recall and use key vocabulary for the half term. To listen to and discuss non-fiction texts. To ask questions to clarify understanding. To respond to class discussions with relevant questions or comments.

	Children repeat back a full sentence that has been modelled for them, generated from their own talk. Children begin to use simple sentences to recall an event.	Follow two step instructions. Recall and define specialist vocabulary. To recall an event in more detail. Children can use full sentences when prompted.		To use new vocabulary introduced over the half term. Engage in non-fiction books and talk about their features.	To respond to class discussions with relevant questions or comments.	To express ideas and feelings about their experiences To use the language associated with transition.
